CANTERBURY.-J H. Ogden, the popular Irish comedian, is still at this resort. He is excredingly amusing. Szollosy and his ballet troupe, are not the least among the attractions, while the old company do their best to please, Here, too, there will be an atternoon performance, when a good bill will be performed.

CHARGE OF ADULTERY .- Yesterday after noon Justice Cull had before him the case of Ada Hemstead, who was charged by her husband, Wm H mstead, with adultery and prostitution, and on which charge she was arrested by Sergeant Clark. It appears that the husband is a soldier, stationed at Lincoln Hospital, where the wife is employed as a laundress, and that recently reports derogatory to her character have been circulated, and the husband determined that his wife's guilt or innocence should be established, and took this course. The parties are from Philadelphia, and have been married about eight years; he being something about thirty years of age, and she a good looking woman of about twenty-eight The first witness called was Hospital Steward John Cross, who testified that Samuel Clark, a youthful soldier, employed about the linen room, had told him that he had been with the woman; that she had frequently fooled around him, and had invited him to go home with her, and one day he went so far as to take liberties with her person. Witness reported the case to the surgeon in charge, and was told to discharge her. The following day he asked Clark if he had connection with her, and be replied that he had had, and this was said in the presence of her husband. J. B. Snow and Christian Stahly corroborated so much of the testimony as related to the

The young man Clarke was called, but refused to testify unless assured that he would get in no scrape: and the justice explained to him that the proper course for him to pursue was to make a clean breast of the affair, and if he (witness) had wronged the others, he (the justice) had no doubt if he made proper acknowledgement they would pardon him. Mr. Clarke then proceeded to state that when the woman first came to the hospital she took some notice of him, and on one occasion she tried to kiss him, but the did not do it, and he made up his mind not to be so backward in future. He went to her house on her invitation, and gave her some caresses, but did not go further. He never had any connection with her, although he had said so, and he acknowledged that he had gone too far with the mat-Justice Cull dismissed the case, remarking that Clark had done wrong in taking such liberties with a married woman, but that the most of the censure, however, belonged to the

A HITH HANDED PROCEEDING .- Yesterday af erroon, I bomas Alexander, Stu Michigan, and Nelson E. Haskell, 1st New Hampshire cavilry, went in bathing in the Eistern Branch, r ar the site of the old bridge, and while so engaged, two boys-John Molden and Samuel Bartley-went out to them with a boat, took them on board, and brought them over, a man named James O'Keiff, who formerly belonged to the marines, and who is quite a notoious character, intimidating them (the soldiers) with a gin. On the boat reaching the shore O'Keiff claimed them as prisoners, stating that they were deserters, and had landed on his domain, and ordered his men-Molden and Bartley-to search them, he still intimidating them with the gun; and Molden got possession of $116:0, belonging to Haskell, with which he and Bartley made off, leaving O K-iff in charge of the prisopers, but the latter had no idea of being kept by a man who refused to show any authority excep his gun, and they immediately made a charge on him, and not withstanding that Haskell was very sick, they got him to the station-house of the tenth precinct, when complaint was made against the other parties. O'Keiff acknowledged that he held the gan to bear on the parties while they were being searched, and stated that he had authority to arrest deserters, and claimed these men as Officers Harrison, Shelton, Harbin, Brenna".

and Berkely, immediately started after the others, and after quite a search the two former officers discovered them, and after a chase captured them. On the way to the station they denied all knowledge of the affair, but before reaching it Molden acknowledged the deed and informed the officers where he had thrown the money, and officer Brennan recovered it. They were taken before Justice Cull who committed them to jail for court.

The two boys were also charged with stealing two blankets and curry combs from the Engineer Camp the previous day, and were committed to answer this charge also. D. J. Felzer and a woman at the camp testified that they saw the boys leave the camp with the blankets and when they noticed that they were detected they threw them away.

A FIGHT AT MARY HALL'S -The new comers and the old set at Mary Hali's rauche, corner Md. av. and 4% street, do not seem to har-monize. Wednesday evening Miss Lizzie Pearce, a buxom English lass, and Miss Lily Filis met and had some words, which resulted in the English girl putting in two or three well directed blows as the deep mourning around Lilly's left eye shows. A short time after this Miss Mary Jackson and Miss Pearce met Miss Ellie Lewie near the hall and hopped in but no serious damage was done to either party. Miss Lewie immediately procured a warrant on which Miss Jackson and Pearce were arrested by officer Weeden and taken to the Tenth precinct station. Wednesday morning the case was heard, and resulted in Miss Pearce giving bail for her appearance at court, to answer for an assault and battery, and Miss Jackson bail to keep the peace.

Subsequent to this trial Miss Ellis obtained a w rant gainst Miss Pearce for an assault or ber and it was served by officer Weeden. The case was heard before Justice Boswell, and Miss Pearce was required to give bail in this case also. Miss Lizzie Brown then charged Lilly Ellis with using threats toward her, and officer Gorman escorted her before the justice, when he held her to bail to keep the peace as well as Miss Ellie Lewie, who was arrested by officer Barker on the complaint of Miss Jack.

A Woman's Fight.—Yesterday afternoon, officer Gordon of the Fifth Ward arrested Mr. and Mrs. In wicher, for being disorderly in the street near Sherburne Barracks, on the comp aint of Mrs. Matthews, and took them before Justice Cull. It appears that the woman had some misunderstanding and that Inwicher went to Mrs. Maitnews house to see about this matter when the latter ordered him out, and as he did not move fast enough she went at him w th cooking utensils not forgetting to use a portion of a hot stove and drove him out. Mrs. In wicher tried to command peace but did not surceed very well, and the officer coming slong with a lecture. While in the office the women ot to speaking of each others character, Mrs. I. charging that Mrs. Matthews was living with a sergeant when she had a husband, the latter charging that Mrs. Inwicher had four children before she had any husband.

WAGES AT THE NAVY-YARD .- Once every two months a commission is appointed, by the Secretary of the Navy, to ascertain the rates of pay given the workmen in the District and contiguous to it, with a view to regulate the wages of the mechanics at the Yard. The commission, a few days since, submitted their report, which leaves all branches at the old rates excepting the carpenters and ship joiners, who receive an advance of 50 cents per day. The carpenters are divided into four classes, at $2 75, $3, $3 25, and $3 50, and the ship joiners into two, at $3.25 and $3.50.

THE BLESSED RAIS.—Much to the joy of the residents and sojourners in this dry and dus'y city, and of the tarmers hereabout, we were visited last night, about 8 o'clock, with a most refreshing rain. The air, which had been ex-ceedingly oppressive all day and evening, (the thermometer 90 to 96 in the shade,) was immediately cooled off, and for one night at least sleep could be enjoyed. The rising sun this morning, however, brought with it indications of another scorching day.

DRAD Horse.-For some days a dead horse has been lying near the principal gate way of the Navy Yard which is fast becoming a nuisance and may breed sickness if not attended to. The proper authorities have been notified but as yet the nuisance remains.

DEATH PROM COUP DE SOLBIL - Yesterday, Mr. Thomas Hant, housepainter, residing on Sthetreet, between L and M, was prostrated by sun stroke, and was removed to his home, where he died this morning about one o'clock. He was a worthy young man, for a long time foreman in the establishment of B. H. Clements & Bro., Pennsylvania avenue, No. 160, and was the only support of his aged and infirm mother.

SAILOR ROBBED .- Night before last Joshus Jarvis, a colored sailor, was robbed near the No vy Yard gate of $160 by four men, three of whom held him and stopped his cries while a fourth robbed him.

PECPASED .- Gideon Pearce, one of the oldest and most esteemed inhabitants of Georgeto wn, D. C., died at his residence on Prospect street, on Wednesday, in the eighty-first year of his COUGHS AND COLDS. The sudden changes of our climate are sources of pulmonary, bronchial and asthmatic affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily when taken in the carly stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches." or Lozenges, let the cold, cough, or irritation of the throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off.
